EVA

"Environmental Valuation and Accounting"

25-26 MAY 2022

GENOVA - ITALY

At the end of the 3rd edition, the Jean Monnet Module EVA on Ecological Evaluation and Accounting has gathered the active participation of experts, researchers, scholars, and students from different backgrounds in the debate on the topic.

EVA is organizing an International Conference on The State of the Art and Latest Advances in Ecological Valuation of Ecosystem Services for Public Policy and Ecosystem Accounting, in Genoa, Italy, on 25-26 May 2022, in hybrid format.

The conference is part of a whole week of events dedicated to the themes of biodiversity, protection, and enhancement of natural heritage organized by the Liguria Region in collaboration with ARPAL and the University of Genoa, coinciding with World Biodiversity Day and European Parks Day.

The conference includes a Keynote Lecture and papers sessions. A poster session is organized for young researchers and PhD students. No participation fee.

REGISTRATIONS ARE OPEN.
